American Chamber of Commerce in Egypt

Directory of Schools

American Education Providers in Egypt

AmCham Education Committee
With the growing number of private schools in Egypt that offer American high school diplomas, there is a corresponding need for readily accessible and reliable information about academic programs, teachers, facilities, fees and other factors.

In response, the Education Committee of the American Chamber of Commerce in Egypt has compiled a directory of schools that grant US diplomas and are accredited, or in the process of accreditation, by both Egyptian and American agencies. The committee designed a questionnaire to solicit information that was sent to schools; the 37 replies were formatted for easy comparison and included in the directory.

Under separate cover is a Guide for Parents that provides both general advice and specific questions to ask when evaluating schools.

The guide and directory are intended to be neither comprehensive nor an endorsement of individual schools by the committee or AmCham. Rather, we hope they are useful tools that will help parents navigate the maze of education options to arrive at the best fit for their children.
